The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address Period for Reply
A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.  - Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.  - If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.  - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.  - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).  Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Information Disclosure Statement

The Information Disclosure Statement under 37 C.F.R. 1.97 has been received and reviewed. However, the information disclosure is not deemed to be pertinent over the prior art of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claim 28 recites the limitation "...long axis of the fibers." in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Please insert the word "-a -- in front of the word "long" for proper antecedence.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Tumas, et al teaches a microporous crystal and synthesis schemes. Tumas, et al teaches a AIPO4-5 and Silicalite-1 compound having a novel crystalline structure (column 3, lines 8-22). Tumas, et al teaches control over the morphology of the crystal growth through the use of reverse microemulsions for the hydrothermal systhesis required to elevate temperatures along with high concentrations of ions. This control can be extended to the morphology of a wide range of complex materials including molecular magnets, nonlinear optic materials. Zeolite morphology control has direct applications in the development of zeolite based membranes for separations that are currently plagues by lack of control over orientational effects, etc...(column 4, lines

3-14). Zeotypes are crystalline open framework materials having porosity on the order of molecular dimensions. These nanoporous materials have found tremendous technological utility as shape-selective catalysts, adsorbents, and ion exchangers. The microemulsions-based systhesis resulted in the formation of long fibers approximately 200-300 nm in width and 15-30 microns in length (see Figure 1A) (column 5,lines 24-25 and 36-57; column 6, lines 45-59 and column 8, lines 21-44, respectively). Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Felisa Hiteshew whose telephone number is (571) 272-1463. The examiner can normally be reached on Mondays through Thursday from 5:30 AM to 3:00 PM, off first Friday and 5:30 AM. –2 PM on second Friday.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Duane Smith, can be reached on (571) 272-1166. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (571) 273-1463.

Information regarding the status of an application may be obtained from the Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system. Status information for published applications may be obtained from either Private PAIR or Public PAIR. Status information for unpublished applications is available through Private PAIR only.
